Miss Harriet G. Cook of Elyria Disguises as College Soap Peddler

Northampton, Mass. Feb. 2.—Under the direction of Mr. Homer Albers, of Brooklins Mass., several students of Smith College prominent among whom Miss Harriet G. Cook, of Elyria, Ohio, a popular member of the 1921 class, have startled three small rather old fashioned and staid western Massachusetts cities, Northampton, Easthampton and Westfield, by appearing on their streets in the guise of street peddlers, peddling soap and a cleansing fluid, which they claim in a singsong voice will cleanse anything from a party gown to a bath tub. Miss Cook is also featuring in house to house canvassing.

The movement is in aid of the great Smith drive for an endowment fund of $4,000,000.

While their unique campaign methods have met with criticism some rather bitter from several prominent residents it is highly approved by Gov Colidge, whose home is in Northampton and President Neilson of Smith Colleges, both of whom not only strongly defend the girls, but highly praise them for their plucky effort. "These girls are qualifying as first rate peddlers" declared the Governor," as they take to the broad highways to sell their wares, they seem to leave more men in the shade. Let them alone. Rather encourage them all you can for they are doing a remarkable plucky work for a wonderfully good cause," he added. President Neilson and Mrs. Albers who is chairman the ways and means committee take a like attitude.

NORWALK ENDS LARGE SUNDAY SCHOOL DRIVE

Two-Thirds of Men in City Attend Services— Similar Campaign to Be Held Here

A. R. Webber of this city, spoke before the Presbyterian Men's class Sunday morning at Norwalk at the completion of a six weeks' campaign in that city between the Methodist and Presbyterian churches to get the men to Sunday school.

As a result 845 men were in the two churches yesterday morning, and it was estimated that three-fourths of the Protestant male population was present. Good natured competition asserted itself to the doors of the churches, many groups trying to persuade parties headed for one church to go to the other. When the final count was made the Presbyterians had 439 present and the Methodists 406. The deciding factor was the six weeks' attendance, the Presbyterians winning out by one vote.

The town did nothing but think, eat and talk Sunday school for six weeks, and it had any political campaign beat a block, and the attention of the entire state has been turned towards it

As a result of Norwalk's experience, the Methodist Men's club of this city have challenged the Congregational Men's club for a similar six weeks' campaign The challenge has been accepted and the contest will be started, Sunday, February 15. To add zest to the contest, the loser will pay for a chicken supper. The Methodists have told the Congregational brethren that they expect to lick them to a finish, and by the time the campaign gets under way, it is expected that there will be fierce rivalry between the two factions.

WATCH STOLEN SEVERAL YEARS AGO RECOVERED

Name "Hattie Garford" Causes Thief to Discard Timepiece —Topliff Clerk Rewarded

The cat that came back has nothing on the watch that was returned a few days ago to Mrs Robert Rice, of this city.

Some years ago when Mrs. Rice, formerly Miss Hattie Garford, was at the hospital, she had her gold watch stolen from a table where she had laid it. The loss was reported but the watch was never found.

The other day Charles Gardner, clerk at the Topliff hotel, spied a rat in the building, and went after it with a stick. He chased it into a vacant room, and while hunting for it, pulled out a box. He spied something shiny, and reaching down, picked a lady's gold watch on the inside cover of which was inscribed the name "Hattie Garford."

He promptly restored it to its owner, and was suitably rewarded. It is thought that the thief was unable to dispose of the watch on account of the name being inscribed in the case, so threw it behind the box where it has been for several years.

"Elyria Steals Teachers"

"Our income has handicapped the schools and our best teachers have been stolen by the Cleveland and Elyria schools who are able to pay larger salaries. Our teachers, however, have absorbed the spirit of the community and don't think of calling it a day's work when the school closes. They take an important part in shaping and developing a more moral community.

"I am now working for the organization of a parent-teachers association. Teachers should meet and discuss problems of the children with the parents. These meetings should and are planned to be held at least every other week.

"After the community gets electric lights I believe that the schools should install movie pictures and have one or two shows each week to which the community— mothers, fathers and children—can attend free of charge. The board of education can make an appropriation for this amusement which will blend with an educational atmosphere. A committee from the parent-teachers' association will select the films to be shown.

School as Community Center

"I believe that the school should be the community center. Every mother and father should take time to be interested in the most vital institution in the community. Every farmer's wife, no matter how busy, has time to devote some energy to the schools. City women, who have more time, are able to devote and should devote a portion of each day in the interests of the school. Women in both the city and the country don't give the schools sufficient attention."

Mrs. Nichols has a 16 year old son, Howard, who is a sophomore in the local high school. The local school has 156 pupils in the grades and 46 pupils in the high school.

MANY WERE RECEIVED INTO METHODIST CHURCH AT SUNDAY SERVICEES

Every Sunday brings additions to the Methodist church. Yesterday a class of 21 was taken into full membership. A number of them were boys and girls from the Sunday school and the sermon and entire service was appropriate to such an hour. The congregation was larger than it has been for several Sundays. Indeed it seemed to be getting back to the usual proportions. Rev Winters discourse set forth the relationship of the child to the church. The anthem by the choir and the solo by Miss Dillenbaugh were very choice presentations and greatly appreciated. At the close of the sermon in connection with the reception of the class Hubbard Wilcox sang 'The Lord My Shepherd Is' and his voice and message were as attractive as ever. The entire morning Sunday school and all was of high character and a prophecy of still better things to come.

It is no small company of young people who assemble every Sunday at 6 o'clock in the Methodist church and last evening the interest was greater than ever. If this crowd should get under way once—as it indeed may then will be things happening for the good of all. Let the good work go on.

Glen Ellison Will Sing at High School Auditorium

One of the musical treats of the season will be accorded the residents of Elyria, Monday night, Feb 16, when Glen Ellison, the famous baritone, comes to the high school auditorium for a concert.

Mr Ellison has sung principal baritone roles in grand opera in England and Australia. His career in musical comedy is a long one in both countries, also. His reputation has grown to be an international one, and it is well deserved for Glen Ellison puts a good cheer, an evidence of inward happiness into his songs that makes him irresistible.

Just listening to him and watching him is enough to make your troubles slip from your shoulders and vanish away. Mr Ellison has the rare knack of putting his joyous personality into his songs, and it is this very ability that has made him one of the most loved singers we have.

The concert will be by invitation and the music lovers of Elyria are fortunate in having this chance to hear the famous baritone in some of his best songs.

NEWS NOTES FROM MOVIELAND
BY DAISY DEAN

There's always a thrill to the circus story and almost every diminutive star is particularly sweet and unusually attractive when playing a daring little bareback rider or trapeze worker. Shirley Mason, who is always appearing in all of her character portrayals, looks just like a bunch of fluffy daintiness in her newest Fox picture, "Her Elephant Man."

She is such a small little person that even the big Jumbo rises up to protect her and Miss Shirley seems to be enjoying his protection here. Miss Mason says she just loves nice big elephants and if they were only a more convenient size she would like to make an apartment pet of one.

Beauty and the Beast with Shirley Mason as Beauty.

CHUMS

Constance Talmadge and Dorothy Gish are said to be inseparable Nazimova's pal is Zazu Pitts. Viola Dana chums with Alice Lake and Peggy Hyland with Madelaine Traverse.

Mabel Normand and Edna Purviance are close friends. And Mary Pickford's best pal is the scenario writer, Frances Marion.

CINEMA SNAPS

May Murray has begun work on "The Man Who Killed" her second Paramount Artcraft production "On With the Dance," her first, will be released some time in February.

Kathleen O'Connor who is playing with Jack Perrin in "The Lion Man" is planning a visit to New York and to her home town Columbus, Ohio when that thrilling serial is completed.

Douglas MacLean and Doris May have completed a picture titled "Let's Be Fashionable." They are the two engaging youngsters you know, who starred in "Twenty-three and a Half Hours' Leave."

Alphens Lincoln erstwhile stage and movie villain, has signed a contract to appear with Stella Mayhew in a series of short reel comedy dramas. The first one of the lot has been tentatively titled, "A School for Husbands."

Wallace Reid, unknown to many as a violin player as well as an "all-round" musician, has organized a jazz band at the Lasky studio.

PRINCE AND BETTY' COMING TO AMERICAN FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

William Desmond has a romantic story of adventure in his newest picture, "The Prince and Betty," at the American Friday and Saturday. Pelham Grenville Wodehouse who wrote "A Damsel in Distress" and collaborated on "Oh Boy!"—previous Lathe successes—is the author of "The Prince and Betty," a novel that has enjoyed popularity for several years.

The story is that of an American, who one day wakes up to learn that he is France John III of Mexico this with out kingdom however, is a republic, but an enterprising American sees a chance to make a lot of money when he stages a revolution puts the American on the throne, gets the little country onto the first page of all the newspapers and finds his baby sister Carlo doing a flourishing business.

But the thing he hadn't counted on happened. The Prince was in love with Betty, an American girl, who had no use for advertisements for a mining house and when he learned it he stirred up some real trouble.

THE VIRTUOUS MODEL' COMING TO COLONIAL WEDNESDAY-THURSDAY

If you believed that you had married your husband to do big things, to write a great book, or paint a great picture or design a beautiful building, or build a big bridge—would you sit back and let another woman rob you of your happiness. would you fight for it?

Denise Fleury, the heroine of "The Virtuous Model," the Albert Capellani Pathe picture, of which Dolores Cassinelli is the star coming to the Colonial theatre in Wednesday and Thursday believed that her soul, as well as her body had been the inspiration for her sculptor husband's masterpiece, for which she had posed, and when another woman sought to claim her place, Denise fought.

Life had been drab and dreary for this beautiful young girl. Surrounded by the squalor of the Montmartre district in Paris she had kept tight hold of her ideals and side-stepped temptation.

Then Paul Brehant, the noted sculptor entered her life. An idealist, smarting from the disappointment of finding the woman he loved untrue to him, Denise's purity appealed to him and they were married. But the other woman would not so easily relinquish her place to a girl from the gutter.

Did the virtue of the girl of lowly birth hold out against the insidious lies and insults of the woman of high birth? The answer lies in the happy ending of "The Virtuous Model." It is an adaptation of the famous French play "The Gutter," written by Pierre Wolff.

THEDA BARA ON S AGE

Theda Bara is to make her debut on the speaking stage at Far Rock away. The Woods office has set the date for Feb. 12. The attraction that she is to be exploited in is "The Blue Flame."

Eugene Pallette will be Viola Dana's leading man, in the Screen Classic picture, "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," following "Eliza Comes To Stay."

Naomi Childers, leading woman in Goldwyn plays, denies that she is engaged to marry Luther Reed, scenario writer for Thomas H. Ince.

THE DEMON GRIPPE

Dorothy Dalton has recovered from her brief tussle with the grippe and is back at work on "Half an Hour," Sir J. M. Barrie's play which was held up while she was sick.

Jack Dempsey in An Impromptu Performance of "Arms and the Man"—and the Girls Too

How'd you like to be "Daredevil Jack?" He fits into this entirely pleasing picture as though he had done the romantic stuff all his life. Like Ruth Roland who is on his left, he is a Pathe serial star. And he is a first class one, too! Take for it the word of Rosemary Theby.

favorite, who is at his right. Ruth Roland and Rosemary—there's poetry for you—Carmel Warren, author of "Modern Cameos" and considered as such a sentimentalists," says this picture is "full of eloquent harmony, with over mastering strength and tender, appealing frag ity." Also, that "it is stimulating to look upon, suggesting the crimson rage of battle and the eternal prizes well worth fighting and dying for." Dr. Warren certainly does strike the nail squarely on the head in a real workmanly fashion.

"I must have 1,000,000 rubles right away," said the Bolshevist minister of war.

"You'll have to wait a while," said the Bolshevist minister of finance.

"What's the trouble?"

"Our press has broken down."

Edward M. Flesh of the United States Food Commission was talking in St. Louis about snobbishness. "Snobbishness penetrates everywhere," he said. "It even penetrates our churches.

"I know an old darkey who got religion last month and decided to join the church. He selected, of course, the richest and handsomest church in town, the church with the finest music and the best preaching. Then he called on the pastor and stated his design.

"But the pastor hemmed and hawed. He felt that his fashionable flock wouldn't welcome such an addition as the old darkey. He didn't want to hurt the old fellow's feelings, however, and finally he said:

"'Go home, Uncle Rooster. Go home and pray over it. This is an important matter and it should be made a subject of prayer.'

"Old Uncle Rooster went home, and in a few days he was back again.

"'Well?' said the divine. 'Well, what's the verdict now?'

"'Ah prayed an' Ah prayed,' said Uncle Rooster; 'an' de good Lawd He say to me: "Rooster, mah son, Ah wouldn't bothah mah haid about dat mattah no mo'. Ah've been a-tryin to git dat chu'ch mahself fo' de last twenty-nine yeahs an' Ah ain't had no luck, nuther."'"

BETTER THAN CALOMEL
Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c.

Carrying a Ton a Mile for less than a Cent

Freight rates have played a very small part in the rising cost of living.

Other causes—the waste of war, under-production, credit inflation—have added dollars to the cost of the necessities of life, while freight charges have added only cents.

The average charge for hauling a ton of freight a mile is less than a cent.

A suit of clothing that sold for $30 before the war was carried 2,265 miles by rail from Chicago to Los Angeles for 16½ cents.

Now the freight charge is 22 cents and the suit sells for $50.

The cost of the suit has increased 20 dollars.

The freight on it has increased only 5¼ cents.

Other transportation charges enter into the cost of the finished article—carrying the wool to the mills and the cloth to the tailors—but these other charges amount to but a few cents more.

A given unit of any commodity will buy more transportation now than it ever did before in the history of the country. A ton of steel or a bushel of wheat will buy more transportation now than ever before.

Walker D. Hines
Dir. Gen'l of Railroads

The $10 pair of shoes that used to sell for $5 goes from the New England factory to the Florida dealer for a freight charge of 5⅔ cents—only one cent more than the pre-war rate.

Beef pays only two-thirds of a cent a pound freight from Chicago to New York.

American freight rates are the lowest in the world.

A GAMBRIL ROOF COLONIAL HOME

DESIGNED BY CHAS. S. SEDGWICK, ARCHITECT

THERE are many types of "Colonial Homes" that may not be called purely "Colonial", but having features that are reminders of the homes built in early Colonial days. The Gambril treatment of roof in this design is a Colonial feature and one that is used frequently in modern Colonial homes It affords splendid space in the third story for rooms and makes a very substantial looking house.

The interior arrangement is roomy and fitted with every modern convenience. The broad open piazza across the front gives dignity and a liberal home like look The central vestibule opens directly into a large living room (without hall). On the left is a pretty den with grouped windows and a projected dutch window on the left side and book case on either side with seat between The opening is one wide sliding door. Back of the den is the main staircase made with separate stairs from kitchen to landing and below the landing is a grade entrance The living room is finished with a heavy beam ceiling and on the right side is a wide fire-place, the chimney being projected on the outside. The dining room back of living room and the kitchen on the left, with pantry between, are well appointed. In the rear is a porch and closed entry, with refrigerator space. The present estimated cost is from $9 000 to $11 000, exclusive of heating and plumbing.

The outside is finished with wide colonial siding and painted white and the roof shingled and stained The first story is finished in white enamel with mahoganized doors and the floor of oak. The second story has four good chambers, with bathroom and ample closets. The finish is in white enamel with birch floors.

SEEN IN NEW YORK, BUT WOULD SHOCK PARIS, SAY ARTISTS

Paris, Feb. 2—Authorities in charge of the Independent Salon, where works of art are being exhibited, caused considerable excitement on Wednesday when they removed Brancusi's copper "Bust of a Princess" from the palace It was asserted they feared it might "shock" Andre Honnorat, minister of public instruction, who opened the salon.

When the sculptor arrived at the salon on Wednesday he found his exhibit missing, and, surmising that thieves had made off with it, he denounced the officials in charge for neglect in guarding the place

Later, when he found the bust had been removed by the authorities, he declared he had exhibited it in New York without exciting any adverse criticism. After considerable discussion, the bust was replaced, but by that time M. Honnorat had passed through that section of the salon.

SPAIN BREAKS WITH MOROCCO, IS REPORT

Madrid, Feb 2—Belief persists, according to the Tribuna, that relations between the Spanish minister at Tangier and the local authorities there have been suspended.

The minister of war denies that Spanish troops are about to engage in a campaign in Morocco as reported.

The present issue is understood to have resulted from differences between the Moroccan authorities and the interpreter of the Spanish legation at Tangier.

CZECHO-SLOVAK HEROES WHO PASSED THROUGH U. S. REACH HOME

President Masaryk reviewing the returned soldiers.

The invalided Czecho-Slovak soldiers, who passed through the United States some weeks ago on their way home from Siberia, were given a royal reception in their native land upon their arrival there recently. President Thomas G. Masaryk of the republic received them at the capital and reviewed the troops. The soldiers proudly carried with them during the review the American flag presented to them by the city of San Diego, Cal., when the soldiers passed through that city. The flag can be seen above. The men fought in Siberia, France, Italy and Russia alongside other allied armies.

RHEIMS, STILL CLUTTERED WITH RUINS, HOLDS FIRST FAIR

A section of the fair, taken during a rain. Note the ruins in the foreground, within a few feed of the fair.

Though the people of Rheims have not cleared away all the ruins left by the war they are getting back to their pre-war existance. The city recently had its first fair since 1914. The merry-go-round was set up within a few feet of a ruined building. Crowds flocked to the fair even during heavy rains.

AVON LAKE TO BE THE HOME OF 'FLIVVER OF THE AIR'

Buck Weaver Heads Company to Place Airplanes to Cost $1200 on the Market

Avon Lake, Feb. 2.—Through the organization of the new Weaver Arteraft Co. Avon Lake can now include airplanes in its list of products. This company has been completely organized and is in position to carry on its business to any extent.

Planes Cost $1200.

Members of the company have for a long period been engaged in designing, building and flying airplanes. Buck Weaver, nationally known as government test pilot, together with Ellwood J. Junkin and Clayton J. Brukner, formerly with the United States aircraft production board, have prefected for manufacture a new commercial plasure type airplane to be sold for $1200.

The company is busily engaged turning out show models of the "cootie" as they call it, to be exhibited and demonstrated at the New York and Philadelphia aero shows and the Pan-American aeronautic congress at Atlantic City.

The little plane being built is truly a "flivver" of the air—its size, speed and price giving it the name "cootie."

The company is now considering factory sites and buildings suitable for the quantity production to be undertaken.

7000 Licensed Pilots.

The demand for the machines is large The machine is the cheapest on the market. It is strong and practical and has been thoroughly tested. It can be started or landed on a small field. It is so small that a hangar will not be needed.

It may be housed in a garage and may be started on any road that is not obstructed by wires.

There are 7,000 licensed pilots in this country and a majority of them are anxious to fly but in most instances they cannot afford to pay $9,000, the price asked for most planes now manufactured.

Avon Lake.

The Avon Lake "Cootie" is expected to meet this demand. The company already has prospects for a large number of orders. The plane is thoroughly standarized so that it can be manufactured in almost unlimited quantities.

"For seven or eight years following an attack of measles I had been troubled considerably with nervousness, for which I doctored without getting any relief. My legs and arms shook and at times had dizzy spells particularly after any exertion or excitement. Naturally my sleep and rest were effected and I would wake up tired. I am using Nerv-Worth and cannot speak too highly of it. My entire condition is greatly improved. The nervousness has nearly disappeared and I can sleep and rest well and feel fresh upon rising in the morning. My appetite and digestion have improved and my condtion as a whole is better than for years.

"L. A PHILLIPS,
Dunns Station, Pa."

Nerv-Worth files abound in signed statements proving the medicine's power to banish the dangerous after-effects of influenza, nerve-wrecking accidents, fevers, colds and the like. Now Mr. Phillips comes forward to show how it overcomes serious ills left in the wake of the measles.

'Ireland's Struggle Is Hopeless While Rivals Vie,' Says Irish Poet

New York, Feb 2.—(Special)—Ireland in her struggle toward nationalization presents the tragic perspective of three antogonistic forces, each arranged against the others, and among which there is no common ground for permanent reconciliation—a struggle that will continue indefinitely as long as the Emerald Isle is made the battle ground of bitter partisanship, as it is today according to William Butler Yeats, the writer and leader in the Irish National theater movement, who has come to America to deliver a course of lectures on the drama and literature, in both of which he is a conspicious figure

W. B. YATES

Yeats, however, desires it to be understood that, while he is a nationalist, he is actively out of the movement though he yearns for an early relazation of Irish nationalistic aspirations and his pen is ardently devoted toward the success evidenced by the eagerness with which, he says, the multitudes are looking into the ancient folklore and language of the country.

Charge England With Deseption.

"Yes," he said recently, "Ireland is unhappy, but her case is not hopeless The vast majority of Irishmen, 'old and young, believe that Ireland has been cheated—they believe that she is the victim of British duplicity and that England passed the home rule bill for no other purpose than to procure Irish soldiers to help her in the war. Having procured Irish soldiers and accomplished her ends, the Irish people—a vast majority of them—believe that her promises were not intended to be fulfilled Thes belief, I may say, is responsible for much of the turbulent agitation that is now rocking Ireland.

"There are three parties, or forces, in Ireland, first, the old Unionists, still more or less resisting nationalization and holding out for a separation of Ulster from the rest of the country. This party is headed by Sir Edward Carson and is known as the 'Extreme Right' The second graup moy be called 'the Center,' headed by Sir Horace Plunkett and Stephen Gwynne, who are holding our for dominion home rule, or home rule within the empire, and the third party, or 'Extreme Left,' is the Sinn Fein organization, headed by Arthur Griffiths and John O'Neill, who wish nothing short of complete separation and an independent government.

"The plunket group backs an idea that, I believe will never be accepted The Sinn Fein, however, present a program that makes an irresistible appeal to the imagination. Therein lies the strength of that organization. It understands the psychology of the Irish people thoroughly.

Sinn Fein Leads Gaelic Revival

"The Sinn Fein is in the majority and it is taking a leading part in the present Gaelic revival. Under its influence multitudes are studying the Irish language and there is a pronounced movement toward the revival of the old custom; in fact Irish folklore is making a deep appeal to the people. I cannot tell what the outcome of the struggle will be It seems to me that it rests with the politicians."

Asked to state his views with regard to the sale of Irish bonds in this country, Mr Yeats said that he had no statement to make on the subject beyond the observation that it was a matter for the politicians.

15 EGGS A DAY FROM 23 HENS, IN WINTER

Mr. Dunl's Hens Increased Every Day. Plan Is Easily Tried.

"We have 23 chickens and hadn't had an egg all winter. In five days after feeding Don Sung, we got four to five eggs a day; in three weeks, we were getting 10 to 12 eggs a day; in five weeks we got 15 to 19 eggs a day."—John Duni, Box 102, Cherry Valley, Pa.

Mr. Duni started giving his hens Don Sung in January, in zero weather. He now keeps his hens busy in cold weather, when hens usually stop laying. A trial costs nothing. Here's our offer:

Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be promptly refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) works directly on the egg-laying organs, and is also a splendid tonic. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health, makes her stronger and more active in any weather, and starts her laying.

Try Don Sung for 30 days and if it doesn't get you the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather, your money will be refunded by return mail. Get Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer or send 50 cents for a package by mail prepaid. Burrell-Dunger Co., 816 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

It Pays To Pay Promptly

Mr. Slow Pay drives a poor car and travels a rough road. It pays to pay punctually; avoid debt; it pays morally; it avoids worry; it pays financially; it avoids trouble; it inspires confidence; it avoids suspicion; it commands respect; it avoids failure; it brings success in social and business life; it avoids scandal.

The person who pays debts promptly establishes a reputation for integrity and earns the good will and confidence of friends, business and professional people —the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker—likewise the banker, the doctor, the grocer and others.

The person who does not pay bills and meet obligations promptly, who is procrastinating, indifferent, or who pays under protest, brings reproach upon himself or herself and reflection upon friends and relatives.

A debt is largely a transaction based on honor. Don't contract an obligation that you cannot meet. Don't fear your conscience; don't demoralize yourself by refusing to pay what you justly owe. Good credit is your best asset. A good reputation is one of the greatest enjoyments in life.

George Kelly

By NORMAN E. BROWN

The sport critics and fans who have been watching Muggsy McGraw's Giant clan closely the last few seasons are of the opinion that one George Kelly long lean Californian, is about ripe to make a bid for first basing honors in the National league—which still holds Hal Chase and a couple of other nifty first sackers.

Kelly has been under McGraw's wing for several seasons The lad is a native of San Francisco and is a nephew of the famous old star, Bill Lange

George played on the Pacific coast in the early days of his career, the Giants obtaining him in the 1905 season from the Victoria, B. C. club of the Northwestern league Kelly had the rep of breaking all the outlying fences with terrific hits

McGraw kept hold of Kelly, farming him out to Rochester and allowing Pittsburg to use him for a few weeks in an emergency. In 1917 Kelly was a bench warmer when the Giants copped the pennant. After the world's series he was called for war duty and he was in service during the next major league season A year ago McGraw gave Kelly and four other players to Rochester for Catcher Earl Smith Kelly had been playing the outfield mostly up to that time, but the Rochester leader stuck him on first and boys, how sweet he looked. He batted a 300 clip, too, and laced out several of the long hits which gained him his rep.

McGraw has brought him back to the Giants and he'll report this spring He's built just right for the job on first He stands six feet, four, has long arms and a husky pair of the ball around fast—and lean on the old willow tree, too.

The Pride of Dixie — By Wood Cowan

Down in the old Crescent City where Gin Fizz used to be the popular thirst-quencher, Fred Digsby the well known sport scribe, arises, megaphone in hand, to announce to the world fair, that he has a lightweight protege that can lick Benny Leonard with a piano strapped on his left leg while he's doing it.

This bird's name is Paul Mioriano, alias "Pal Moran"

He's a tough wop, and if he can do all the things that Fred says he can he's wasting his time fooling with the "welterweights" like Benny Why not take a slant at Fulton or D'Annunzio? They seem to be anxious to fight

At that, Pal has flattened a few of the best lightweights in the south and the rest of them aren't likely to cause him an ...rouble, so he's decided to cover a little more territory and invade the rest of the union in search of victims

Pal Moran comes from the French market. Fact is, every fighter hailing from New Orleans seems to have a mania ot be a product of that famous incubator

Two years ago he went twenty rounds with Dundee, losing the decision Johnny out-generaled the youngster Pal Moran beat Joe Mandot in 15 rounds, flooring him three times. Moran has lost but one decision in the lats two years; Monk Fowler, who won that verdict, was later knocked out by Moran in two minutes It was the quickest K. O ever registered in a New Orleans ring, and that's covering a lot of battles He is the only pug outside of Fred McKay who has fought for over these years without sprouting a tin ear. He likes canned peas, always removing the can before eating the peas and wears green socks.

Wooster and Akron in the north, Wittenberg in he south. These are the teams that today loom up as the prospective championship basketball teams of the Ohio Conference.

None of the other teams have escaped defeat and as a result have no chance for the title unless Wooster, Akron and Wittenberg are defeated in the games to come.

The eyes of Ohio Conference fans will be turned toward Akron Friday night where Akron and Wooster will lock horns. The battle should be a corker. The winner of the tilt will be the undisputed leader of the northern division of the race and will have really a better claim on the title than Wittenberg as Wooster and Akron each play more conference battles than Wittenberg.

Wittenberg should not be displaced this week as an undefeated team, as its only opponent is Ohio Northern a team that has shown no startling from to date.

Mt. Union had a good week, beating Denison and Ohio, though defeated by Wooster and will prove a tough tidbit for Case when they meet the Scientists Friday night at Alliance.

Two big games will be played here Saturday night. Both will figure in the championship of the Cleveland district and one is a conference game. Reserve will entertain Baldwin-Wallace, the team that last week humbled Case. Case will have to be in the hands of the Berea five, while case will have to play its best to get an even break with the Saints.

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

SAYS WE MUST KEEP FEET DRY AVOID EXPOSURE AND EAT LESS MEAT

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts, put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes, and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

SHIP, IMPRISONED ON LAKE EIGHT DAYS, TRIES ANOTHER TRIP

The little steamer Sidney O. Neff, attempting a trip from Milwaukee to Chicago, became caught in the ice of Lake Michigan within a few miles of Chicago harbor and before help could be summoned the boat was lost in the storm sweeping the lake and drifted in the ice for thirty-five miles. She was believed lost for four days while airplanes aided the coast guards in searching for her. She was found, but it was four more days before the boat was freed from the ice and helped to port by the steel steamer Alabama. Despite the hardships the crew of thirteen suffered during that time, every man "stuck with the ship" when Captain Olson decided to attempt a return trip to Milwaukee, where most of the crew live. While the boat was caught in the ice, seven men, including a photographer, walked across the ice to it, the photographer taking the above pictures.

MARION MAN GOT NO RELIEF FROM VISIT TO CITIES

MADE SPECIAL TRIP TO CLEVELAND AND OLEOD FOR MEDICINE WHICH DID HIS RHEUMATIS AND TOMACH TROUBLE NO GOOD

COULDN'T BEND OVER

BACK ACHED, JOINTS SORE MUSCLES PAINFUL THE NEW MEDICINE DRECO HAS RELIEVED HIM

"I even made special trips to Cleveland and Toledo to buy medicine for my ailments but none of it did me any good," are the words of Mr. F. E. Dreher, the expert carriage maker, who has lived in Marion, O., the past 22 years and now resides at 308 Girard Ave.

"My back gave me lots of trouble I could not bend over, without great pain. There was a continued hurting right over my kidneys. My joints were full of rheumatism and my muscles sore and drawn. My stomach seemed like it was on fire and would fill up with gas. I think my stomach trouble came from taking so much strong medicine for the rheumatism, and tore it all to pieces.

"I kept reading about what Dreco was doing for people around here, so I bought a bottle. Before I had taken half of it, I could see that it was helping me. It eased my stomach; stopped the burning and gas and quieted my nerves so that I could sleep. Then the pains began to ease up in my back and I could stoop and bend without suffering as formerly. My joints got supple and muscles relaxed. I continued taking Dreco and today I haven't a pain in my body. I think Dreco deserves the praise of every one in this city."

Dreco acts on the kidneys, aiding them to strain the rheumatic poisons from the blood; overcomes stomach trouble; relieves constipation and rebuilds rundown systems.

All good druggists sell Dreco and it is highy recommended in this city by Ebert's Drug store.

IS NEW AMERICAN MINISTER TO CUBA

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT
BY ROY K. MOULTON

FIFTY-FIFTY.

Hezekiah was a cynic; nothing ever went just right;
Things were always wrong at his place every morning, noon and night.
Pessimism was his hobby and he loved to make complaint,
And his peevish mannerisms surely would provoke a saint.
Never missed a chance to worry; said he always was afraid
That he would die in the poorhouse, and he saved each cent he made.
Never had a moment's pleasure; life was earnest and was real.
Always lookin' for disaster; always ready for to squeal.
Always certain that the country was a-going stright to smash,
So he spent his entire lifetime hoarding up the sordid cash.

Obadiah was his neighbor—always happy, never glum;
Always had a funny story, and he loved to make things hum.
Smoked and chawed and had good victuals; never mindful of expense.
When a circus reached the village he'd be sittin' on the fence.
Went to all the funerals reg'lar; cheered the mourners up a lot;
Let his farm work go to tophet and was Johnny-on-the-Spot.
Life was nothing but a picnic, that's the way it looked to him;
And he got into the spirit of existence with a vim.
Both passed out a long way back and troubles worry neither one.
Hezekiah had the money. Obadiah had the fun.

"Oh, I'm not married any more," he said. "My wife broke her leg last week and I had to shoot her."

WHEREIN OUR CONSTITUTION IS SACRED

The statement is often being heard that the constitution of the United States is a sacred document. Is this ...?

It is in the sense that all organic law in any nation is ...ed; it is in the sense that as long as it is the constitution of America it is to be observed, rigidly enforced and ...otically obeyed. But is it sacred in a higher sense ...this?

There are some who contend with a religious fervor it should no more be touched, by the profane hand of who would change it, than the Ark of the Covenant ...ncient Israel. Is this the proper view to take of the ...titution?

It is not the view that the framers themselves took of ... The constitution was opposed, strange to relate, by a ... who believed that there was too great centralization ...wer in the hands of the chief executive, and, on the ... hand, by those who believed the centralized government was not strong enough. Hamilton himself, without ...e powerful aid it is not probable that New York State ...d ever have ratified the constitution, seriously questioned whether it would last more than a few years. But ...t that in the chaotic conditions a bad constitution was ... than none.

There are loyal men in America who believe that the ...e of office of the president should be for a longer ...d and he should be prohibited, under the constitution, ...a second election. There are those who believe that American government would be more efficient and ...l accomplish the will of the majority more perfectly ... Untied States Senate were abolished. There have ...many changes suggested which are believed to be ...ovements, by thousands, if not millions, of people.

The constitution did not came from the hand of the ...ghty full grown as Minerva from the brain of Jove. ...had it would have been unnecessary to have made ...een amendments to it as we have up to the present. Is there anything in the constitution which we ...d observe and insist on retaining with a fervor ...nting to religious conviction?

We believe there is and that one thing is the orderly ...sses for which the constitution provides for the mak... any change that may be desired by the citizens of ...ica. Our forefathers forged from the flames of a ... revolution this constitution and they imbedded into ...hods and means by which progressive human rights ... find expressions and protection by changing of the ...tution itself without an appeal to violence or the ...of arms. It is a slow process, to be sure, but if a ...e is worthy of the effort and a fundamental right is ...ed, it is worth the effort that is necessary to start all ...achinery into action for the accomplishment of the ...se.

Americanism is not opposed to change or progress, if ... interest of the common good, but it points with an ...ng finger to the peaceful methods by which the ...e must be brought about. Our fathers in framing ...nstitution evidently determined by providing the ...ds of amendment to it that they would change the ...ity forever of appealing to the abitrement of the ..., to the abitrement of reason and the ballot.

There have been scores of proposed changes in the ...c law of the land. Movements have been started in ... sections of the country in previous years, most of ... ended very close to where they began, because the ...ho conceived of the alleged need of the change did ...d the response among the people of the nation to the ... that Congress would pass a resolution for the ...e nor the states ratify it by the required three-fourths ...legislators. Some times the very discussions them... have brought forth through other means the remedy ...e evil to the extent it existed.

Free speech, a free press, all mean agitation. Agitation ...s the purifier of democracies and republics. Sanity ...yalty simply insist that the propositions be carefully ...ered, that they be accurately weighed and that con... ...y be made to constitutional means for the accom...ng of the proposed change in all of its phases, even ...change is a desirable one.

There are those who would change the method by ... the constitution itself is amended. Such a move... is now on foot. This is an appeal to the citizens ...elves of America by a great plebicite so that the ma... of the people shall approve of the ratification by their ...gislatures of an amendment before it shall be a part ...constitution.

Whether this is wise or not is not the question that ...considering. But when men propose this change ...pose to adopt it by the methods provided in the ...tion they are within their rights as they would ...suggestion of any other change.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCHES NORTH AND SOUTH TO UNITE

The news dispatches, a few days ago, carried the information that the Joint Committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church South had agreed to report to their General Conferences of their respective churches, a plan for uniting the two great bodies of Methodism, under the general head of "The Methodist Church" leaving out the word "Episcopal" from the present name.

This report was made unanimously and will reach the General Conferences of the two bodies in May. This marks an epoch in the history of Methodism in America and when it has been accepted and an accomplished fact, it closes a great breach that was caused by the differences in the church over the question of African slavery.

For quite a number of years, the main question that has kept the two great bodies separated has been the two views held on the status of the negro. The two churches have been one in many respects. They have carried out very much the same line of labor; they have used in recent years the same hymnal that was compiled by committees from the two General Conferences, and they have been identical in their church government and strikingly similar in all of their plans.

It is interesting now to note how in their plan the negro question is taken care of. In the first place, of course, there is to be a General Conference, as at present. But in addition to the General Conference it is proposed that there shall be regional conferences, so as to divide up the territory into certain regions. We believe that in America there is to be five.

In addition to these regional conferences which have considerable of the jurisdiction and powers of the present General Conference, there are to be associate conferences and these associate conferences are to be colored conferences. They thereby make separate and distinct the colored people of the Methodist Church from the white part of the Methodist Church and we understand that they will have their own general superintendents or bishops.

The regional conferences will select bishops subject to the approval of the General Conference and for the number apportioned by the General Conference. The colored people are represented in the General Conference by a certain percentage of that body and the interest of all is protected in the general funds as from their book concrn.

The above are organic changes in the legislative department of the Methodist Episcopal Church which will probably be discussed quite freely at the next General Conference but undoubtedly passed.

In addition to the foregoing, there is a certain reviewing council composed of men who shall not be members or officers in either the annual or general conference which has similar powers to a court of review over various appeals.

Undoubtedly, all Christian people will rejoice in the evidence of unity in these two great bodies and it should be expected that their amalgamation will result in great momentum in the work which is now being done by them in various fields, through separate organizations.

Government Says That Newspapers Are a Necessity

Magazines Do Not Come in Same Class According to Bureau Chiefs

Washington, Feb. 2—A daily newspaper is a necessity, but a magazine is not, according to a budget announced by the bureau of statistics of the United States department of labor.

In making the budget of $1,-... a year for single men, the department allows $9.40 for newspapers and nothing for magazines or ...

"The reading of a daily newspaper is so customary and so desirable as an incident to intelligent citizenship that an expenditure for this purpose may be regarded as a necessity. The Washington daily newspapers are not uniform in their subscription rates, the two most expensive costing $8.40 per year. This sum is here allowed, as the individual should be free to choose the paper he prefers and in any case the difference is not large.

"No special provision is here made for the purchase of magazines, books and other reading matter. It is assumed that the free public libraries can be availed of by those who are seeking to live with close economy. Any special expenses along this line, due to individual tastes, would under this budget have to be charged to the amusement and recreation allowance."

NEW YORK PASSES OHIO IN AUTOS

Latest Figures Show Registration by States — Ohio Now in Second Place

NEW YORK PASSES

Cheer up Mr Strap-Hanger, you've got a seat coming. And not very far off either. Maybe just a year hence. According to the predictions of statistical experts there'll be one automobile to every two families in the United States by January 1921. If you are not a member of one of these families there will be room in the street cars.

Statisticians of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company, who have just completed a count of the motor vehicles of America are looking forward conservatively to 10,000,000 cars in 1921. This means approximately one car to every ten persons, or figuring three and one-half persons to a family, one car to every two households. Your chances of having a car in the family are therefore 50-50—one in two.

The Goodrich count on automobile and trucks now in operation is based on official figures from every state in the Union. The registration of motor vehicles for 1919 was 7,555,... for vehicles for 1918 was 7,555,269 —an increase of 1,531,664—a gain of 26 per cent. The increase of ... over 1917 was 23 per cent.

All dealers and motorcycle registrations have been carefully deducted. The figures present the first complete authentic report.

The registration by states for both 1918 and 1919 and the percentage of increase in each state follow:

Totals	6,023,605	7,555,269	26 0

Note: * denotes states in which registration for last few days of December had to be estimated.

The race between New York and Ohio for supremacy in number of registrations has turned decidedly in favor of New York—the Empire state leading by a comfortable margin, the percentage of increase, too, being greater.

An analysis of the figures disclose that five states have more automobiles and trucks registered within their individual confines than the entire continent of Europe. These states—New York, Ohio, Illinois, California and Pennsylvania have a combined registration of 2,445,536—30 per cent of the entire country's registration.

The state of Washington supersedes Maryland in the distinction of having the largest per cent of increase. Maryland's increase over 1917 was 82 per cent, while Washington comes along with a 48 per cent gain over 1918. North Carolina runs a close second 47 per cent in place of its 60 per cent increase in 1918 over 1917.

The figures reflect that the automobile industry—the third largest in the country—is in an era of almost limitless expansion. It has converted those with pessimistic views of the future of the internal combustion engine as a means of vehicle population into genuine optomists. It has forced nation, state and county to establish good roads building campaigns in equal stride with the trend of motordom.

WHO'S WHO?

EDWIN T. MEREDITH.

The newest member of President Wilson's cabinet, Edwin T. Meredith, has had a wide range of experience in public life. Meredith becomes secretary of agriculture, succeeding David F. Houston who in turn takes Carter Glass' place as secretary of the treasury.

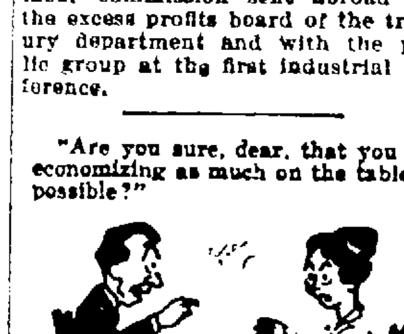

E. T. MEREDITH

Meredith is 54. He was born in Avoca Ia., December 23, 1866. His home is in Des Moines. He became publishers of the Farmers' Tribune in 1896 and held that position til he started Successful Farming in 1902. He was a Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate in 1914 and for governor of Iowa in 1916.

He has been a director of the federal service bank of Chicago since its organization and is president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World. He was a member of the labor commission sent abroad on the excess profits board of the treasury department and with the public group at the first industrial conference.

"Are you sure, dear, that you are economizing as much on the table as possible?"

"Dear me, yes. Why, it is only costing us twice as much as it did before the war."

Some time ago a distiller bought a beautiful estate in the country, and after having the house rebuilt to suit his taste he set about to give the place an appropriate name. Nothing that he could think of appealed to him, so he decided to consult a friend.

"Say, Bill," said he, going into the office of a friend one afternoon, "I want you to help me out of a hole."

"All right, old man," responded the friend. "State the case and you will find me right on the job."

"I want a fitting name for that new place of mine," returned the distiller. "I have considered a hundred, but none of them seems to do."

"That's an easy one, old man," was the smiling response of the friend. "What's the matter with calling it 'Alco Hall'?"

A small boy of the Jewish persuasion who was playing at the end of the pier fell into the sea and was only rescued after great difficulty by an intrepid swimmer, who dived off the end of the pier and succeeded in getting the boy into a rowboat.

Half an hour afterward, much exhausted by his effort, the rescuer was walking off the pier when a man came up and tapped him on the shoulder.

"Are you the man who saved my son Ikey's life?" he said.

"Yes," answered the much exhausted hero.

"Then," said the Hebrew in indignant tones, "v'ere's his cap?"

Study Problems Solved

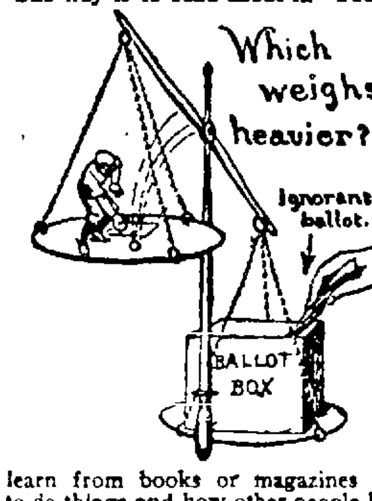

Citizenship

BY CHARLOTTE G. KUH
Francis W. Parker School

How do you expect to be a good citizen if you don't know how the government works?

There is nothing that is interesting to do that does not require preparation and training. You can't play basketball or football, or bake a pie, without knowing how. If you fail in your knowledge and practice of citizenship, you hurt more people than you would by a poor play in baseball or basketball. Besides yourself and your team, your failures in citizenship harm the entire community.

There are two ways to learn a thing. One way is to read about it. You can learn from books or magazines how to do things and how other people have done them. But a more effective way of getting at a problem is to see it solved and to try to do it for yourself. Apply this to Civics—the problem of government. You will be a part of the government when you are old enough to vote. You can best learn how to be an effective part by seeing how the government works in your own city or town.

There are a hundred ways in which the government affects you or those near to you. Make a list of all the means by which the government touches your life and that of your family. One of the things on your list will be taxes. Do you know how a tax is levied and collected? Do you know which taxes are good ones? You can find out about taxes by visiting the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue. Another thing that the government does for you is to protect you. Do you know in how many ways your city or town keeps you safe, and how it goes about doing this?

To know about citizenship, observe what the government does. Go to the City Hall and ask questions. See the courts at work, and learn how your government takes care of you. You will get much training toward becoming an effective member of that large team which is called "The Sovereign People."

Wild Life of Forest and Field

Ground-Hog Day

BY ADELIA BELLE BEARD

On the second day of February the Ground-Hog comes out of his hole to play Peek-a-boo with his shadow. That is the story we have all been told, and it goes on to say that, if the sun shines and the Ground-Hog finds his shadow, he will immediately rush back to his burrow and stay there six weeks longer for fear his shadow may find him. This is said to be the sign of six more weeks of winter. But if the eventful day proves cloudy and the Ground-Hog does not see his shadow, he will decide to remain out and then our longed for spring may appear at any time.

It is doubtful if any one believes the story literally, yet everyone is apt to notice the weather on Ground-Hog Day and talk of an early or late spring.

Most boys and girls who live in the country know a Ground-Hog, or Woodchuck, when they see one; many others do not, and it will be interesting to go on a hunt for a Woodchuck hole and watch for the little animal to come out.

He often digs his burrow in a hillside and you may sometimes find it in a wood pasture or field, and in front of his always open front door he loves to sit and sun himself—having, it appears, overcome the fear of his shadow. He is about fourteen inches long and he is stout. The top of his head is flat, he has black, beady eyes and his coat is brownish-gray. His bushy tail measures about five inches.

In the North-West he is larger and his coat is grayer.

It is surprisingly dainty fare that the Ground-Hog chooses, for he loves best to live on clover; failing that he will help himself to what he finds in the vegetable garden. In the fall, he becomes very fat and early in November he hides himself deep in his burrow where he sleeps soundly until February.

Look for Baby Woodchucks in June. They play like puppies in front of their burrow, never far from home and mother.

NORTHERN AND SOUTHERN PARTS OF CHINA ABOUT TO END DIFFERENCES, IS REPORT

Reports from Canton state that the South China faction, with its capital at Nanking, is about to unite with the northern government at Peking. China has been torn by civil war for several years. The provinces south of the Yangtse river are in revolt against the northern provinces, with occasional fighting along the river. Each of the Chinese provinces is practically independent, and the nation is only a loose confederacy. The fighting forces comprise a very small proportion of the population. They rove about the country like bandits, with each chief a power unto himself.
